

Who are you?

God gave us our parents to remind us we are children of God and He loves us.

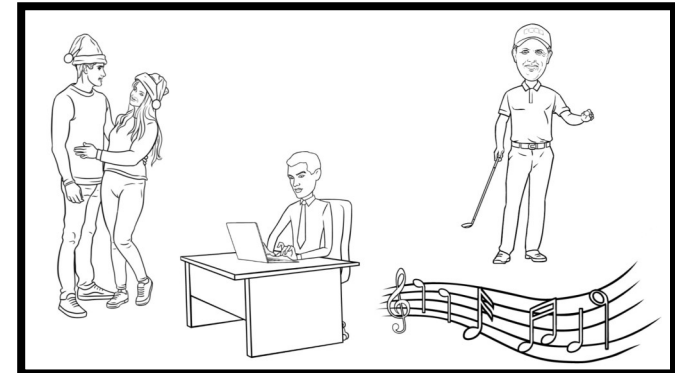

When we know we are loved by God, we have a firm foundation to stand on.

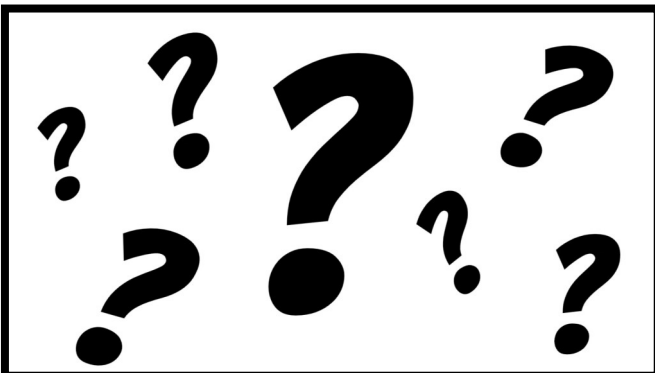

But when we are hurt by others, our foundation becomes cracked.

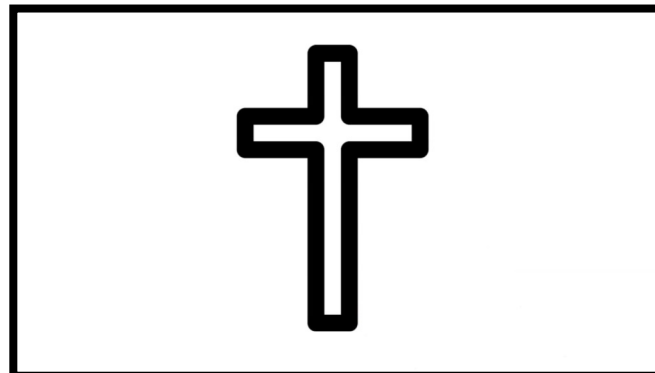

Without a firm foundation to stand on, we feel like running away.

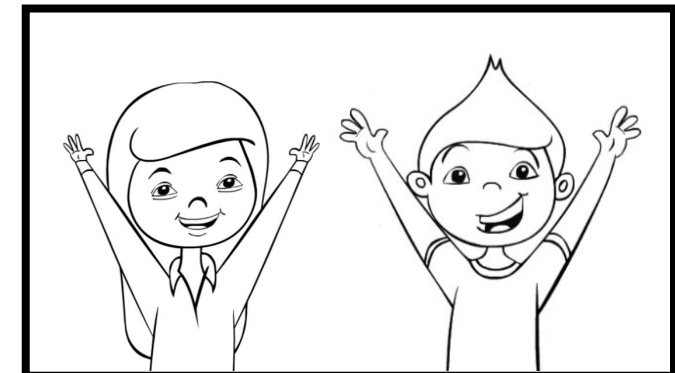

We try to feel better by hoping to make others like us, or being good at something.

It's confusing, because we can't find anything that makes us feel okay with ourselves and we are lost.

But when we return to God and remember who He says we are, our foundation starts to get healed!
